

Tribute to Bro Ng Liang Kway from Sis Linda Ng

Dear Father;

Really thank God, we're so very blessed to be the children of Mum and you. Though we are not rich, we've joyful childhood just like anyone else. For survival, mum and you find all means, take up few jobs, so that we have a enjoyable growing up life. Though we have no chance to travel overseas, we have plenty of fascinating & exciting childhood. Sometimes, watching movie at Happy Cinema, a family lunch of Teochew porridge, a beach picnic, or a visit to Changi Airport watching taking off and landing of airplanes. Whether is it mum selfless care or dad coming home timely after everyday's hard work, both your company make us very happy. We are just contended to have one another in our family, we're indeed very blessed.

Though we do not have big car, we thank God for providing us with a commercial van, because dad works with Eng Wah Film Production Company. Dad fetches us to Amusement Park with the vehicle, what a happy childhood! Dad and mum co-operates very well, teaching us the importance of education, thrifty, study first and play later.

Father take on three job to support the family, mum also work hard as part time baby-sitter, rent out room to help out the family. Though life is tough, we never starve, especially in terms of learning, Dad and mum will do their very best, even to pawn their jewellery, to ensure we have no lack.

Thanks to dad, we have plenty of opportunities to taste food of different cultural. I recall our whole family used to visit Farrer Park hawker center, feasting on Malay satay, mee sotong. After visiting our grandmother, we'll return to Lin Da Tou Road street market to enjoy our supper of fried oyster, hokkien mee or pork porridge.

During my secondary school days, mum need to go out and work full time, while dad make nice coffee for everyone, then fetch younger brother and me to school, mum to work, then he reports to work. Day in day out, year after year, until the day we graduated and start to work.

Even though all of us are married now, we cannot forget our childhood life, and we treasure all the precious moment spent with dad and mum. Now that we become parents ourselves, we come to understand the difficulty in parenting, then we realise how much our parents have endure for our benefits. Our parents' love is simple indescriptably self sacrificial. We feel shameful when we as children often neglect our parents due to business with our own family and work. Thank you, daddy and mummy, for all that you've done. Thank you for your teaching, your care. We're sorry we've not let both of you enjoy life, but instead bore you down with worry for us till today. May God forgives us and grant us grace to repent, grant us opportunity to shower you with love and treasure you, that you may enjoy every moment of your life with family surrounding you. We love both of you. May God bless both of you with good health, watch over your coming in and going out, joy, grant you the desire of your heart, peace with the family. May our family and the generations to come make Jesus the centre of our life, set love as our foundation, enjoy blessed family life, bountiful living, pure heart, treat each other with sincerity, one happy family, Amen!
